WELCOME HIGH SCHOOL SENIORS

Sophanes Players To Present: Mr. F.

When Fate himself strolls onto the stage of our auditorium this afternoon at four, his power will touch the lives of many people: Victor Trellis, a musician with more talent than money; Agatha, his winsome wife, who makes the third wish and Mrs. Peterson, their stolid landlady, excited by a burglary.

Of course, there's more to the play than these things: There's a lot of the kind of magic that is Fate's method of shaping events: Music from nowhere, objects and people which appear and vanish, and people who disappear and materialize out of smoke. The greatest magic, though, is the fact that Fate himself walks on our stage.

The play, "Mr. F.", by Percival Wilde, will be presented before students and visitors on High School Senior's Day by the Sophanes Players. Barbara Jones and Jimmy Wilson will be stage hosts to Mr. F., played by Gene Culver, while Joan Blomquist takes the part of the owner of their apartment.

Joyce Atkinson is stage manager for the show, and William Truitt the production manager. Their staff includes James Wilson as technical advisor, Jean Maxwell as designer, Dorothy Mead as prop mistress, Jayne Thompson as prompter, Kathryn Eiseman as wardrobe mistress, Shirley Longfellow as make-up artist, and Billie Dawson as publicity director. MacCurdy Burnet is directing the play.

BARTHolemee NEW S. G. A. SECRETARY

Last September, during the regular elections held each year, Emma Miles, a sophomore from Pocomoke, Md., was nominated and elected Secretary of the Student Government Association. In the middle of January, however, she had to resign her post due to her health after faithfully fulfilling her duties for nearly five months.

Joan Blomquist took over as acting secretary until a new election could be held. The new nominees were Ardath Bartholomée and Barbara Bloodsworth. In the election held the following day "Ardy" was chosen as the new secretary. She, too, is a sophomore and lives in Towson, Maryland.

ORCHIDS TO

All those who contributed to the success of today's activities. The basketball teams for a successful season.

All those students and faculty members who were ever present to lend their cheering support.

A MESSAGE TO HIGH SCHOOL SENIORS

Congratulations to each of you upon your approaching graduation from high school. One logical question for you now is "After High School, What?" Many of you have for years looked forward to attending college. Others will ask themselves the question, "Why attend college?" Just as the greatest of all teachers "Came that we might know life and that we might live it more abundantly," so you may well decide that you too will go to college in order that you may not only know life but that you may live it more abundantly through understanding life and by adapting yourselves to the world in which you live.

Since success will mean different things to each individual, depending largely upon experiences with others, college life should represent cooperative living. No one develops experience except through persevering in the solution of life's problems, demonstrating enthusiasm for living cooperatively, taking full advantage of opportunities, applying knowledge in making decisions, cultivating right attitudes, respecting the rights of individuals, and applying principles of integrity in the development of a workable philosophy of life.

Other questions which may to advantage be given due consideration are: Who should go to college? When should one enter college? Where should one go to college?, and finally, What college should one attend? In view of the fact that college can accept only a limited number of those applications who can and will profit from attendance, and to the present existing conditions you are urged to submit applications for admission to the college of your choice. In order to enable students to know what this Eastern Shore College has to offer, the Annual High School Seniors Day has been scheduled for the afternoon and evening of Friday, March 16th. It is therefore our hope that all of you will accept the invitation and attend our fifteenth Annual High School Seniors Day.

PRESIDENT J. D. BLACKWELL

CAMPUS LEADERS

On February 8, 1951, after a week of nominations, the final voting for campus leader was held. The outcome of this election has remained undisclosed until Senior's Day which is March 16, 1951.

Miss S.T.C., and Mr. S.T.C., must possess the same qualities for the honor. They must have done something outstanding for the college, and must show a pleasing personality. The candidates for this were: Miss STC, Joan Blomquist from Northeast, Md., and Maybelle Murphy from Federalsburg, Md. The male representatives for the honor, Mr. STC, were Frank Van Order from Caldwell, N. J., and Leon Connor who hails from Greensboro, Md. Each of these candidates will be very deserving of the award.

In nominating the next candidates the students were asked to choose someone who had maintained a B average in all subjects at the college, have intellectual curiosity and share their knowledge. Consequently, Sam Ellis from Delmar, Del., and Stewart Harrison from St. Michaels, Md., were the finalists for the title of "Most Scholarly Man". The "Most Scholarly Woman" contestants were Maybelle Murphy from Federalsburg, Md., and Catherine Widdowson from Princess Anne, Md.

Barbara Bloodsworth, who originally came from Easton, Md., and Betty Calcott from Salisbury were the persons the students felt had done most to help advance athletic interests of the college in women's sports. These girls are competing for the title of "Best Woman Athlete". The same qualifications applied to "Best Man Athlete" and the finalists in this department

You Want To Be A Teacher If:

1. You believe in youth.
2. You really enjoy working with people of the age you plan to teach.

3. You have pride in your appearance and are careful to be well-groomed at all times.

4. You are emotionally stable and well poised.

5. You possess the qualities of leadership.

6. You are reasonably strong and in good health.

7. You are ready to give moral as well as intellectual leadership.

8. You are ready and willing to take your part through organization to improve the profession of teaching.

9. You want and plan to be a lifelong student yourself.

10. You are less interested in accumulating great monetary wealth than in giving service to your fellow men.

11. You are broad minded enough to see that education concerns the whole life of individuals.

If you possess all of these qualities you are not even second to perfection; indeed, the teaching profession is crying aloud for your membership. If you have at least some of them, your chances of becoming a successful teacher will be that much easier.

Easter Vespers

The Christian Association invites all members of the student body and faculty to attend the Easter Vesper service to be held from 6:00 p.m. to 6:30 p.m., in the Social Room on Sunday, March 18, 1951. There will be group singing followed by a brief address given by the Rev. Robert F. Woodward, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Princess Anne.

At this special season, it is hoped that all students and faculty will join in this worship service.

"Disc-Jockey Wills"

When you turn on your radio at 10:30 on week nights and you hear a voice that sounds familiar — don't be surprised. It is none other than "Bob" Wills. Bob is the successor of "Frankie" Pierce on a regularly scheduled program at WBOC, the voice of the Del-Mar-Va peninsula. The recorded music program is known as "Record Rondevo" and the tunes are usually request numbers. As all the students know, it is one of the more popular programs of the station.

Bob came to STC in 1948 as a transfer student, from Indian Cont. Col. 2, p. 2

SPOTLIGHTING STUDENTS

One of our "bums from Brooklyn", Joe came to STC in 1947. He brought with him and still has an accent typical of a Brooklynite, and he was indeed a loyal fan of the Dodgers. His stay on the Eastern Shore has removed some of the accent from his speech, but one would be able to name his locale on first acquaintance with him; especially should you begin to converse on baseball and the "Brooklyn Bums".

ASSEMBLY REVIEW

Joseph Udovich — Report on experiences of student who received foreign scholarship award the previous summer.

Dr. May — Faculty "pep talk" to men concerning attitude of students toward military service.

Warren Lee Terry — A program of Gilbert and Sullivan in both song and story.

Dr. H. P. Van Walt — Authority on international affairs, featured in a popular lecture entitled, "Is Russia Aiming at World Supremacy?"

Yusef Shaish — An informal talk on Syria, followed by a discussion, the speaker being a Syrian teacher on tour of the United States under sponsorship of the United States Office of Education.

Progress in Better Living — A science demonstration program by the Du Pont Company, featuring the role of plastics in modern living.

Dr. Krishnayya — Journalist from India, lecturing on, "Role of India in World Affairs".

Christmas Candle Lighting Program — Annual program of Christmas music and the traditional candle lighting.

Gloucester Bay — Travel film featuring the fishing fleets operating out of Gloucester, Mass.

Historic Homes of Maryland — An illustrated talk on historic homes of the state seen thru the medium of Kodachrome slides.

Life of Stephen Foster — Motion picture film concerning life of the great American composer.

Pygmalion — Film version of G. B. Shaw's celebrated play.

Hobbies Are My Business — Program about hobbies by Ed. Rowlands, hobby and sports expert.

Hobart Mitchell — Baritone singer in a program of "Poetry and Song".

House of Magic — Science demonstration by General Electric Co.

William Holmes — Traveller and lecturer featured in an illustrated talk on Peru.

Tom Two Arrows — Program of American Indian Culture particularly music and dance of the Iroquois.

The Roosevelt Story — Popular film of the life and affairs of the late Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Head, Md., where he attended Lackey High School. After his freshman year he decided to enter the field of elementary education. An honor student during his entire stay at the college, Bob ranks high in the scholastic standings. A diligent student and a hard worker Bob will no doubt prove successful in whatever he undertakes.

Judging from his record, Joe's future looks bright. STC is proud to have him as a student and will be proud to claim him as an alumna.

Through The Keyhole

Well, another month has rolled around and here we are with the little goings on.

First I think every one should know that Patty Lou has fallen in love with a snazzy convertible, Sharp, eh!

Valentine's Day certainly has left Gene Culver in love. Better watch it Gene, her heart is in Korea.

Why has Beverly been chasing around the school? Has she lost something?

Jean Burns has been working on a pair of socks. Will they be finished by next Christmas?

I see that Thurman is still being followed by his third grader.

Have you noticed: Chott's new hair color? Bill Lennin's hair cut? Lloyd Fry's Valentine present?

There is a race on. Which one will catch Candy, or is it which one will Candy catch?

Isn't it convenient that Bob Colburn had outdoor accommodations on March 2nd instead of having to use those stuffy beau corners?

How is "Mit's" dead horse?

Jean Beavens suggests that Anchors Aweigh be put back on the hit parade.

I hear that Charlie Butler is considering entering politics. He might become governor, he is such an orator.

Jim and Lois Wilson certainly do get to breakfast. It must be Lois because Jim didn't get there last semester.

New couples: Betty James and "Moe" Shields, Anna Lee Funk and Stanford Crockett, and Molly Maxwell and Jimmie Williams.

Why did June Sherwood come running from Riggins one night?

Kitty Eiseman must be planning on joining the Navy. You know, a girl in every port.

Well, I have tried again, because no one ever made footprints in the sands of time by sitting down.

This one I have called

CRIME DOES NOT PAY . . .

BUT THE HOURS ARE GOOD . . .

It's about a juvenile delinquent who grew up. He had to grow up. There's no other way to grow . . . And you know what juvenile delinquency is. That's children who act like their parents.

Joyce Atkinson has her diamond, but Gene Lilley has taken a fatal step — marriage. Congratulations, Gene!

Ted Phoebus has a "new convertible" girl. Who is going to catch this one? It's spring, you know!

Betty Anne White has been seen with an alumnus, a principal, too.

Not bad for a beginning, teacher.

Well, so long for a while, see you again, soon.

Snoopy

have an unlisted telephone number . . . You know, a town where there's nothing doing every minute . . . The situation was becoming a hectic one. And when I say hectic I mean exciting because I don't know what hectic means.

Well, he was successful in robbing the old man late at night because he was deaf and did not wake up. And his wife had so many gold fillings in her teeth she always slept with her head in a safe . . . Yes, he got the money and made off with it in his brief

Nothing has ever moved so fast

since Errol Flynn found Artie

Shaw's address book . . . How ever, as always, he was caught in the end . . . They put him in prison where they gave him coffee, but no sugar. He went stir crazy . . . So the old saying still holds true: "Crime does not pay."

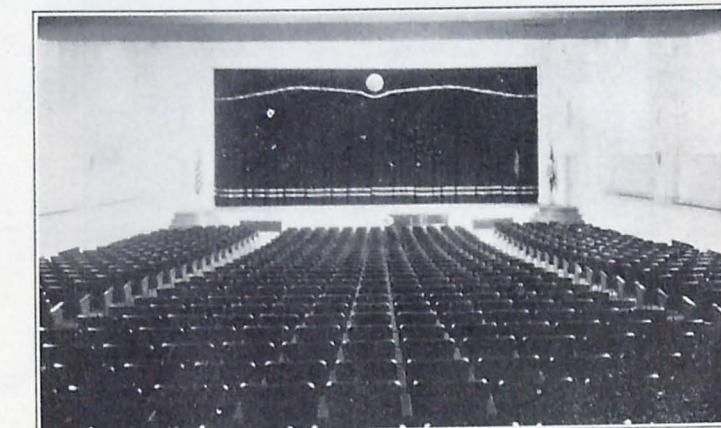

Only this shows . . .

A LOOK INTO COLLEGE LIFE

MEN'S NEW DORMITORY: During the past semester, a ceremony which combined the laying of the corner stone for the Men's New Dormitory and celebrating the Silver Anniversary of the founding of the college was held on the campus. Distinguished guests, friends, and Alumni were invited to attend and participate in the events.

AUDITORIUM: Used for college assembly periods and productions by the Sophomore Playes, the student dramatic group. The Community Concert Association and similar local groups present programs of a cultural nature in the auditorium, the largest of its kind in this area.

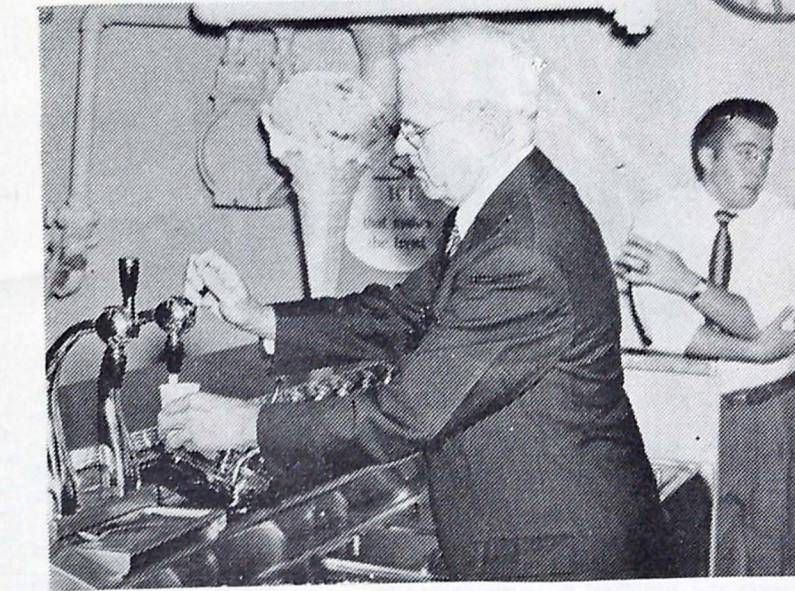

GYMNASIUM: The gymnasium contains all types of apparatus and is equipped for basketball and volleyball. Facilities for track and field events and such outdoor sports as soccer, softball, baseball, tennis, and field hockey are provided on the campus area adjoining the gymnasium and locker rooms.

CAMPUS ELEMENTARY SCHOOL: Observation and practice teaching taken in the Campus Elementary School provide the prospective teacher with a model for classroom procedure. The supervising teachers are trained for this particular work and aid the student teacher in learning correct techniques and skills for the class room. Opportunity is also provided to practice teach in schools off campus, thus giving a varied experience and a wider perspective.

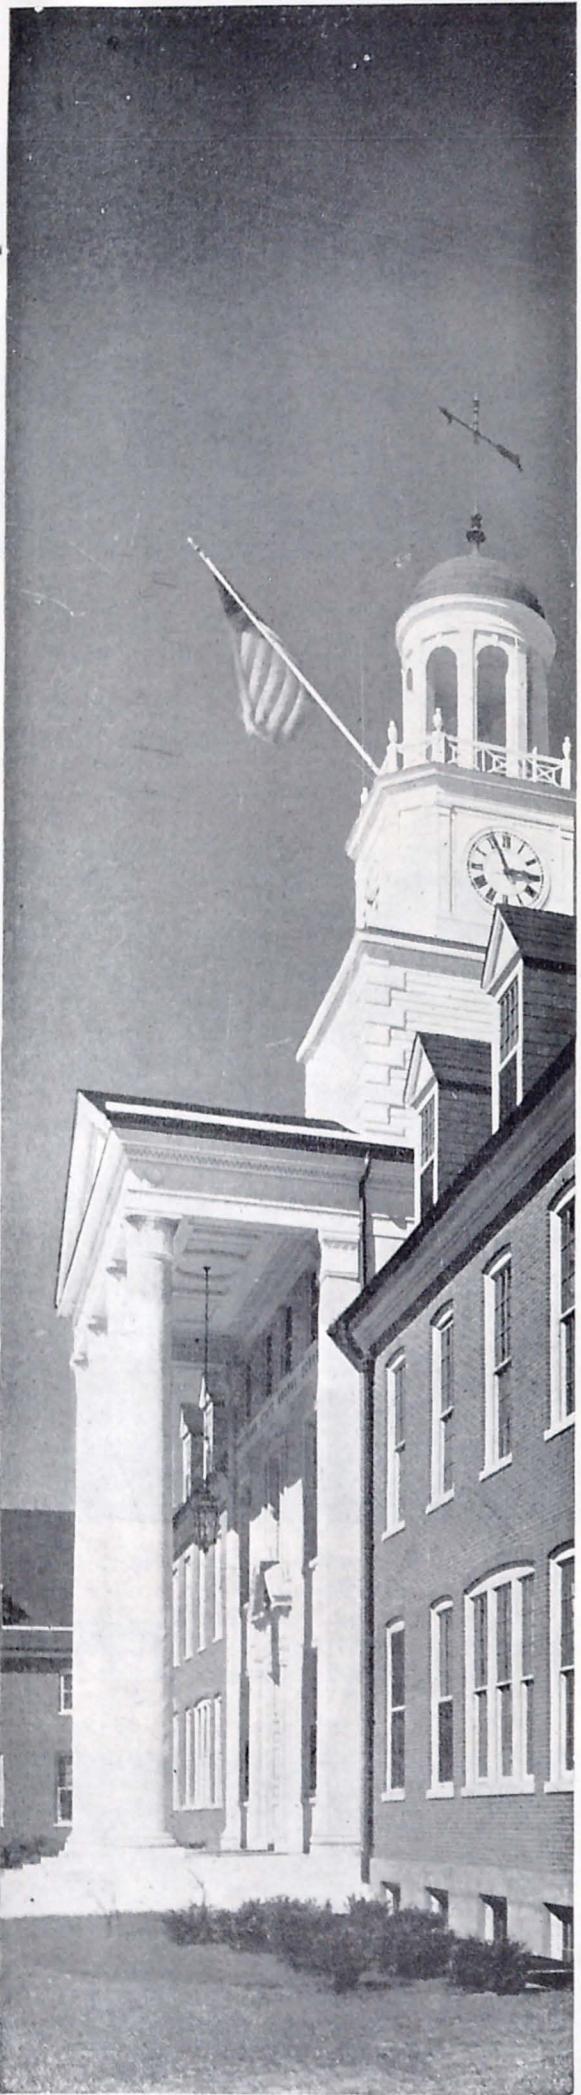

STUDENT ACTIVITY CENTER: A student operated cafeteria, with recorded music and a dance floor provide refreshments and entertainment for the students and their friends. Informal discussions between the student and faculty often spring up over a "coke" or a cup of coffee. The Student Store and Post Office complete the facilities housed in this corner.

"An institution is the lengthened shadow of one man . . . and all history resolves itself in the biography of a few stout and earnest persons." — Emerson — Self Reliance

The history of Salisbury State Teachers College starts with the dreams and practical achievements of its first President, Dr. William J. Holloway. A man of well-balanced judgment, he welcomed new ideas and methods in education, but knowing the conservative temper of the Eastern Shore, he was not carried away by fads and theories. Dr. Holloway placed great emphasis upon the service which the college could render to the community, and by a well arranged series of musical and dramatic entertainments, popular lecture courses and colorful historical pageants, he did much to make the public aware of the new college in its midst.

During the nearly ten years of his presidency he retired in the fall of 1934 and died March, 1936, at the comparatively early age of 63; the school fulfilled many of his educational dreams. His slogan, "A well trained teacher in every county school" was practically an accomplished fact, and the local press of Salisbury said in 1936:

"State Teachers College here is regarded as a monument to the efficient and untiring efforts of

A History Of Salisbury State Teachers From 1925 to 1951

The school was authorized by the Maryland Legislature of 1922 and had as its original aim, the training of elementary school teachers, with special emphasis on rural education, and as such it was first established in 1925 as the Maryland State Normal School At Salisbury. At this time, there was a two year curriculum, organized on a three term basis, with an enrollment of one hundred and five students, all women. Later, the curriculum comprised three years on the semester basis, and in 1934 the State Board of Education extended it to four years, with the awarding of a Bachelor of Science degree in education upon the completion of four years work. In June, 1935, it was decided that the State Normal School should become a Teachers College and that the curriculum of the first two years should be greatly enriched, thus enabling students, other than prospective teachers, to do undergraduate work. Today, that situation largely prevails. The college has, as its principal objective, the preparation of teachers for the elementary and junior high schools of Maryland, but it also puts forth every feasible effort to adapt itself to the present needs of all high school graduates who can benefit from college instruction. The adoption of many non-professional courses to the curriculum since 1934 enables the individual student to secure an all-round development as a basis for additional academic or professional training. Today the student body of nearly 350 includes more men than women.

At the very beginning of the college much attention was paid to the selection of distinctive and appropriate school colors and emblems. The school seal which features in its center the colors and the shield of the state of Maryland is unique in construction and design. Under the direction of the first art teacher, Miss Nancy Beyer, a contest was held to produce a seal which would show in artistic form the distinctive products of Maryland's Eastern Shore. The contest was won by Miss Grace Hallam, an honor student, who combined the pines and the cornfields, the sailboats and the blue waters of the landscape, with the definitely recognizable melons and cucumbers, berries and tomatoes, peaches and sunshine of the Shore. This unique seal, imprinted on all official stationery, jewelry, plaques, and armbands, was even molded into the supporting standards of the seats in the college auditorium.

We quote from an article in the 1926 Holly Leaf, "Each portion of the seal is characteristic of either the State, the Shore or our school. The loblolly pine is characteristic of the Eastern Shore; the boat represents our fishing industry; the plow and the farm products typify the agricultural interest of the state; the strawberry bed shown in the lower left foreground represents a leading count of two time honored traditions of Salisbury State Teachers College, the Alumni Induction Ceremony and the Christmast Candle Lighting. We quote from a June, 1927, "Holly Leaf":

"At six-thirty o'clock subsequent to the Alumni dinner the induction of the members of the senior class eligible for membership in the Alumni Association will be held. This ceremony, a solemn and beautiful one, is conducted by faculty and Alumni, and held on the classic front portico, illuminated by the rays of the setting sun. To each senior who becomes a member, the induction service makes the most profound and stirring impression on his last days of active school life."

Today the above statement is still true and it speaks well for Eastern Shore sunshine to note that only once in twenty-four years has inclement weather made it necessary to hold ceremonies indoors.

In December, 1926, we note from the pen of Dr. Holloway, "One thousand nine hundred and twenty-six years ago a tradition was started among the people of the earth. One year ago tradition was started at the Maryland State Normal School at Salisbury. Celebrating the birth of Christ is the ancient custom, and to promote this custom we have devised a reverent and effective ceremony, the annual candlelighting. We are convinced that it is a worthwhile tradition to establish and we hope that the future students will desire to continue it."

That desire has been fulfilled. Each year at Christmas time the lighted Christmas trees stand in the beautiful social room of the college, and the students come in pairs, singing carols and carrying unlighted candles bought twenty-five years ago. Gifts are brought and stockings are filled for the needy children of the community, and as the students sit on the floor and recite in unison "The Night Before Christmas", they cannot help but feel with the founder that, "in lighting the small candle of our lives from the large one which is the college, we are gleaning ideals to inspire us in our work and bring out the flames of energy, ambition and initiative which are lying dormant within us".

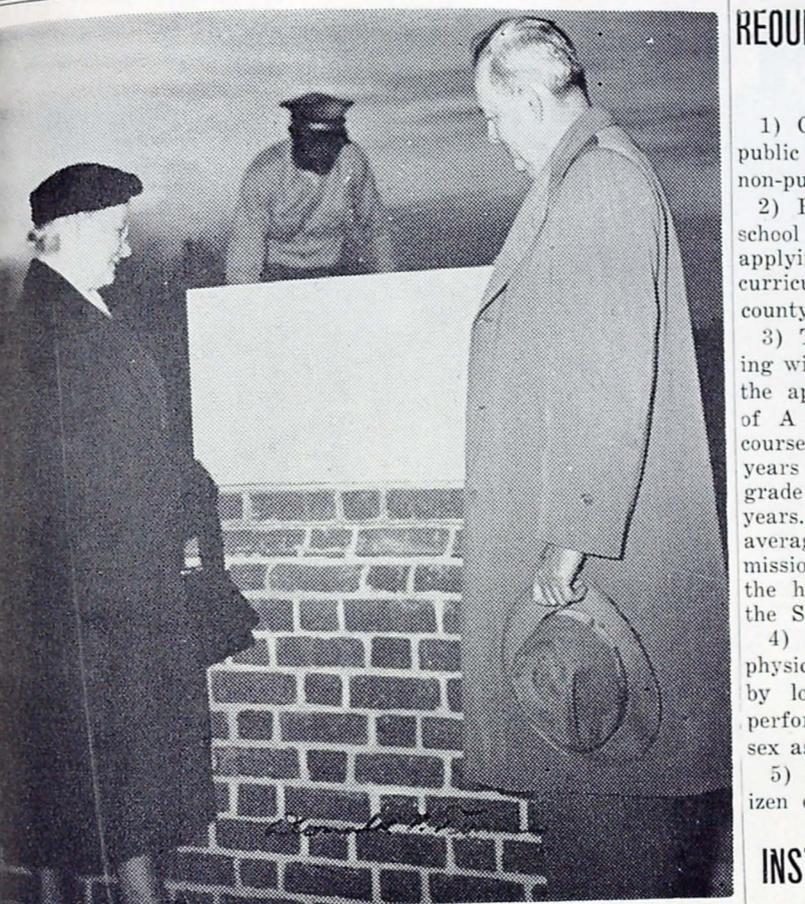

All institutions change and develop. Under the vigorous administration of a new president, Dr. Jefferson D. Blackwell, a building program has been inaugurated. To quote Dr. Blackwell from a 1948 publication: "The Maryland State Planning Commission in recommending new buildings and improvements at Maryland State Teachers College, has listed as urgent for Salisbury the erection of a men's dormitory, a new demonstration school building, an adequate power plant, a garage, and a new library." In addition to the above listed buildings, a men's gymnasium, a recreation building, a President's residence, and a second men's dormitory, are included in the six year improvement program as set up by the State Planning Commission. The Legislature of 1949 provided funds for the purchase of twenty-five additional acres of land, one men's dormitory and a garage, plans for which are now prepared.

Today, the Maryland State Teachers College at Salisbury offers two years of general education with a degree of Associate in Arts, and a four year teaching training program with a Bachelor of Science in Education degree. It is looking forward to many more years of increasing educational service.

EXPANSION PROGRAM

PROCEDURE FOR ADMISSION TO COLLEGE

- 1) Precede application blanks from Administrative Offices. Catalog also furnished on request.
- 2) Fill in completely the first two pages — denoting which curriculum you expect to pursue.
- 3) Forward application to high school principal for completion.
- 4) Completed form is mailed to college by a school officer.
- 5) High school record is reviewed and evaluated.
- 6) Student notified on decision of Committee on Entrance.
- 7) Information supplied relative to registration and attendance at college.
- 8) Attend Freshman Week Program as assigned by the Dean.

CAMPUS LEADERS

The Queen of May "must have the air of a queen in poise, dignity, charm, grace and beauty." Jeanette Messick from Quantico, Va., and Nancy Strohsacker from Berlin, Md., are the candidates for this honor.

The escort of the Queen "must possess a fine countenance, have a well proportioned physique, and he must dress appropriately and neatly." As a result of these qualities, Dave Pearl and Roy Eason were chosen as the final candidates. Dave comes to us from Berlin, Md., while Roy comes from Philadelphia, Pa.

The program contemplated includes, in addition to those improvements already mentioned, a new gymnasium — with a swimming pool, and athletic field, and a revision of the landscaping of the college grounds.

To be announced on Senior's Day are the winners of the Achievement Keys. To be deserving of this award the student must have made the honor roll two successive semesters, and must have sufficient honor points to show their good citizenship.

All the students who are competing for these awards are very deserving and very well qualified. But, as in any election, may the best man win!

REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION

- 1) Graduation from a standard public high school or an accredited non-public school.
- 2) Recommendation of the high school principal and, for students applying for the teacher-training curricula, the approval of the county superintendent.
- 3) To qualify for teacher-training with the waiver of the tuition, the applicant must have a grade of A or B in at least 60% of courses taken during the last two years of high school, with no grade below C in the last two years. Students not meeting this average may be considered for admission on the recommendation of the high school principal and of the Superintendent of Schools.
- 4) Each student must pass a physical examination administered by local physicians. These are performed by doctors of the same sex as the student being examined.
- 5) Each student must be a citizen of the United States.

INSTRUCTIONAL FACILITIES

- 1) Competent and well-trained faculty and Administrative staff.
- 2) Well equipped laboratories and classrooms.
- 3) Small student body allowing more personal instruction.
- 4) Campus Demonstration School affording the prospective teacher training and observation in a school which stresses the application of improved methods of teaching.
- 5) Curricular offerings adaptable to the needs of most prospective college students, namely:
  - a four year teacher-training program leading to the Bachelor of Science degree in either Elementary or Junior High School education.
  - b) A two year (or one year) transfer program designed for students contemplating transfer to larger colleges and universities with advanced standing. For those so desiring, an Associate in Arts degree is conferred upon the completion of the two year program.

ADMINISTRATIVE OFFICES

Information about admission to and curriculum offerings at Salisbury Teachers College and other colleges is available in the Main Office. Inquiries are always welcome and answers to questions not immediately known are sought out as soon as possible. Inspection of the college and its facilities by students and/or their parents is always welcome.

SOCIAL ROOM: The atmosphere of this room lends itself to informal visits and occasional reading, also to radio entertainment and group discussion. A baby grand piano is available to all who may desire to make use of it.

HOME CORNERS: Each floor of the Women's Dormitory has recently had its Home Corner remodeled, enlarged, and refurnished. Free time is spent here in discussion groups, cards, reminiscing talk, and activities generally designed to bring the students into the closer relationship which creates the lasting friendships of college days.

LIBRARY: One of the many expanding departments of the college, the library offers the student source material, periodicals, current and classical literature, and a quiet study hall.

INFIRMARY: An experienced registered nurse supervises a well equipped infirmary containing seven hospital beds. A local physician is called when the case warrants special attention. A physical examination is administered free of charge to each man and woman—by a member of their respective sex—as soon after admission as is possible.

S.T.C. Cagers Ring Down Curtain

By JACK PAYNE

The curtain has come down on another S.T.C. basketball season and the Gulls can write this season off as one of the best in the last four or five years. They easily bettered last year's record of six wins and fourteen losses. The Maggsmen played 21 contests of which they won 10. Their collegiate record is 6 wins and 8 losses and they have a 4 won, 3 lost mark against Eastern Shore town teams.

They have done all of this despite the loss of Dick David and Pril Slacum to Uncle Sam, Paul Liedlich and Dave Sentman to jobs at home, and Bill Kniceley via the injury route. This leaves the team with only nine regulars, three of which are "foreigners" (out of state), five are local boys and one member, Frank Potter, hails from Cambridge. The five Salisbury boys are Bob Fithian, Bill Lankford and Donald Smith, all of whom starred at Wicomico High and Dick Holden and Hicks Brinsfield, who played high school ball at Easton and Vienna respectively. The "foreigners" are Joe Udovich and Bob Shields from Brooklyn, N. Y., and Roy Esiason of Philadelphia, Pa. Lou Bradley of Mardela and Don Reed of Rising Sun, members of the J. V.'s, have filled in at different times for absent regulars.

Wesley College's "Whippets" invaded the local domain on February 16 and the Gulls literally flew into the boys in blue. They came from behind to edge the visitors 47-45 in a hard fought game. Roy Esiason's last minute marker plus a fine freeze proved to be the clincher.

A few days later the S.T.C. cagers tuned up for a game with Wilson Teachers College of Washington, D. C., by trouncing the Ft. Miles Soldiers for the second time by the score of 66-27. Brinsfield, Lankford and Udovich all hit for double figures in the rout.

The lineup proved of little value as the locals dropped the Wilson game, here, by a score of 76-48. Brinsfield paced the "Birds" with 22 points.

The Towson Teachers "Golden Knights" brought the Gulls record attack, again hitting in double figures, but his efforts were allmost futile.

The Glassboro Teachers dealt the Gulls their second straight defeat and sixth of the season on Ground Hog Day. When the game ended the Gulls were on the short end of a 62-40 score. None of the Maggsmen hit the cords for a large number of points.

Just two weeks after their first defeat by Wilson, the Gulls journeyed to the Truman Estate (Wash., D. C.) only to be trounced again, this time to the tune of 74-56. Largely due to Lankford's cord ruffing, was able by ten points to cut the margin of difference between the two games scores but that was not enough to win.

The Cambridge Dairymen tackled another defeat on the Gulls to make it four straight losses before they could hit the winners stride again. Joe Udovich was as hot as a pistol with 24 points, and Brinsfield and Fithian were plenty warm but despite their scoring the Dairymen had enough to win 85-70.

The Gulls then flew into a win streak. First, they knocked off Beacom for the second time 78-69. Bill Lankford found the opponents court to his liking and rolled up 40 points for the victors.

On March 5, the Kings courtmen came to S.T.C. to help the locals close the season. However, the Gulls finale was not a happy one as the "Purpleclads" came from behind, scoring 44 points in the second half, to win going away 62-52. Lankford was again red hot as he hit the cords for 30 points but the Gulls failure to throttle Rager, Davis and Windmiller proved their undoing. This marked the last game for seniors Brinsfield, Potter and Udovich and possibly Fithian.

J. V. NOTES: The J. V.'s have won 2 and lost 3 in five games. They split with Ocean City in a pair of games, beat Mardela and lost to Crisfield and the Hurlock town team. Besides Bradley and Reed the team includes "Jr." Walls and Ted Jarrell, Greensboro; Bob Sawyer, Federalsburg; Bill Truitt, Ocean City; Mits Sasaki, Berlin; Bob Coleburn, Pocomoke; Rober McConkey, Washington, D. S., and Nick Vitarelli, Camden, N. J.
